

SORU

design Mikko Halonen

The beautiful and soft shapes of the Soru collection and the three heights of the backrest offer the opportunity to create attractive and functional spaces in lobbies, conference rooms and everywhere that people meet.

Soru is more than a sofa or an armchair. The elegant wooden frame, combined with the softly curved backrest with a veneer surface, creates a calm and cosy atmosphere in any interior. The notable use of wood brings warmth and a sense of luxury to the space.

The backrest upholstery of the sofa and armchair consists of segments according to the height of the back. This creates an opportunity to enliven the upholstery with different fabrics or colours and thus create an original look for the space.

Responsibility is intensely involved in the Soru collection. The particular feature of this collection's wooden backside is not only a design detail but also cuts down on the use of upholstery materials. The upholstered parts can be removed and re-upholstered; thus, Soru's life cycle continues.
